(International News Service.)

Paris, March 15.—President Wilson conferred today with various leaders of the delegations of the big five. Programs for future action were outlined for the President's benefit. ### THIRD DEATH IN DEKALB COUNTY FOLLOWS RAIDS

ALLEGED MOONSHINER KILLED BY UNITED STATES REVENUE AGENTS.

Stills Are Captured SEVERAL PERSONS ARRESTED AND PLACED IN FT. PAYNE JAIL.

Another bloody chapter has been written in the history of De Kalb county.

Johnnie Steele, alleged moonshiner, was killed by revenue men this week, following closely on the slaying of two government officers by moonshiners a few weeks ago, according to reports received here, making the third death resulting from alleged illegal distilling in that county and the efforts of the government men to stamp it out.

The following story of Steele's death is taken from the Huntsville Daily Times:

Johnnie Steele, an alleged white moonshiner is dead; two alleged wild cat operators are in jail at Ft. Payne; prosecutions will be recommended against several others and eight illicit distilleries have been destroyed this week by revenue officers in De Kalb county.

At the direction of Deputy Collector N. L. Pierce, acting under instructions from the Revenue Agent at Nashville, Deputy Collectors Davidson, Bennett and Ferguson went into De Kalb county to investigate the killing of two government officers by moonshiners several weeks ago. Deputy Collector Pierce was unable to make the trip on account of having to look after the income tax work in this section.

Steele was killed yesterday while a raid was being made about seven miles northwest of Ida in De Kalb county where a large illicit distilling outfit was destroyed.

As the officers approached the still they were fired upon from ambush by the supposed sentries on the still.

The officers returned the fire and when the fusillade of bullets had ceased the body of John Steele was found behind a thicket and another man in a soldier's uniform was seen to escape.

Deputy Sheriffs Igou and John Ambrester accompanied the revenue men.

Deputy Collectors Davidson and Bennett returned to Huntsville this afternoon and reported to Deputy Collector Pierce that they had destroyed seven other illicit distilling outfits in their De Kalb county raids.

The killing of Steele took place near the point where the alleged moonshiners killed two officers a few weeks ago.

America to Point Way For Labor In Times Peace

(International News Service.) Paris, March 15.—America must point the way for labor in the new world emerging from the war. The 114 field artillery, also Tennessee troops, will arrive at Newport on March 22.

Illicit Still Is Found On Farm of "Dry" Leader

(International News Service.) MONTGOMERY, March 15.—Sheriff P. L. Hubbard of Lowndes county and two deputies have seized a 15-gallon illicit still on the plantation operated and partly owned by Dr. Percy A. Baker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, near Haynesville in that county. Three quarts of whiskey and 50 gallon of mash were destroyed by the sheriff. John Roberts, a negro, is under arrest charged with operating the still. Under the new Alabama law the Baker plantation as the site of an illicit still can be seized and sold by the state, one-half of the proceeds to go to the sheriff of the county, if it is shown that the owner had knowledge of the operation of the still. If he does not, the proceeds are to be reported he will do, the Baker property will be the second subject to such proceedings in the state under the law which Supt. Baker was largely instrumental in having passed.

GENERAL STRIKE OF RAILWAY CLERKS HOURLY EXPECTED

ENTIRE SOUTHEAST MAY BE AFFECTED UNLESS AGREEMENT IS REACHED.

REGIONAL DIRECTOR DECLARES STRIKE "APPROACH TO REVOLT."

(International News Service.) NASHVILLE, March 15.—According to Harry C. De Grey, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway clerks, the differences between the N. C. & St. L. Railway will be adjusted or steps taken looking to such adjustment within the next 48 hours.

(International News Service.) ATLANTA, March 15.—All clerks employed by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Atlanta & West Point railroads were ordered out this morning and the strike became general by 1 o'clock today. It is believed that a general strike order effecting clerks on all southeastern railroads will be sent out tonight.

(International News Service.) Atlanta, March 15.—Five thousand railway clerks and office employees from all railway stations, offices, yards and shops are today on strike in this section, according to union labor leaders, practically placing all freight movements in and out of Atlanta at a standstill and greatly hampering passenger traffic.

B. L. Winchell, regional railroad director for the South, in a statement published this morning declared the strike "an approach to revolt against the government."

"I do not believe that the strikers fully appreciate the fact that the railroads are under government control and that the force of their action necessarily falls upon the government," the statement says. "I know of no steps that can be taken toward a settlement of the matter until the clerks decide to follow the proper channels. It has been the policy of the administration to deal kindly and justly with the employees."

Strike leaders assert that they have followed the methods provided for in the settlement of their grievances and that efforts to get a hearing were fruitless. It became known this morning that all organized railroad men in the southeast have pledged their full support to the striking clerks and that a general strike in the southeast of railway clerks and even other employees is a possibility. No attempt is being made today to move freight.

$5,000 DAMAGES IS DEMANDED BY CHIEF HARTSELLE'S POLICE

Court Action Follows Conflict of Authority Over Auto Seized and Alleged to Have Contained Liquor.

Chief of Police Percy stated at noon that he had received a bond to make. It is stated he is charged by Sheriff May with resisting an officer. No date for trial of the charges have been set, but probably will be heard at an early date.

Sheriff Jep V. May and the National Surety Company, bondsmen, were made defendants in a suit for $5,000 brought in the circuit court today by Sample and Kilpatrick, attorneys for Frank J. Perchey, chief of police of Hartselle.

The suit is the outgrowth of an argument of the two officials regarding the possession of a Hudson super-six automobile alleged to have been seized by the Hartselle officer on a tip from the sheriff several weeks ago and alleged to have contained at the time 190 half pints and 68 quarts of liquor and two quarts of port wine. It has been brought here by Sheriff May.

Following the seizure the car had been held at Hartselle in the custody of the chief of police of that city. Several days ago, however, an attachment writ was issued here in the case of Frank Harris vs. Frank Dean, in which cause it was said that money was owed Mr. Harris, who is a well known local automobile dealer, for repairs on the car.

Sheriff May went to Hartselle to serve the writ but it is claimed Chief Perchey refused to allow the automobile out of his possession.

A lengthy wrangle between the county and city official ensued and the complaint in Chief Perchey's suit alleges that Sheriff May "threatened to shoot up the town" if necessary in order to enforce his demands. The complaint alleges further that the Chief was threatened with handcuffs and arrested for obstructing the Sheriff.

Locks Broken.

During the argument, it is claimed that the locks on the door of the building in which the car was stored were broken and the complaint says they were taken away by the Sheriff.

It was stated here today that the conflict of authority of the two officers proved very embarrassing to citizens who witnessed the argument and were deputized by the Sheriff to assist him in getting the car and deputized by the Chief to resist the county officer.

The complaint of Chief Perchey sets forth that the car was seized on March 1, 1919 and was being held awaiting condemnation proceedings under the new prohibition laws of Alabama. The car is described as a Hudson super-six, number 15167. The Sheriff brought the car here after the locks are said to have been broken on the garage door and the complaint alleges it was "wrongfully taken."

"Arrested" Perchey.

Sheriff May today told the Daily that he did not plan to take the car when he went to Hartselle to serve the writ, but that he merely wished to identify it but stated that Perchey would not cooperate with him.

"Nobody would tell me where the car was," he said. "I had to hunt it up myself. I did not intend at that time to take possession of it and take it away. I was willing to leave it in the custody of Perchey but I did want to identify it."

"I was told by the garage man that Perchey had given instructions not to open the door of the room in which it was stored."

"Later when I found the car Perchey tried to keep me from taking it and had his own hands on the auto. I told him I would handcuff him if he continued his efforts to obstruct me. I told him he was under arrest."

Use Machine Guns To Speed Slaughter

(International News Service.) Berlin, March 14.—To save time, government troops employed machine guns in the execution of captured Spartacists. Many were lined up in the court yard of the police pre-ecture and shot down by machine guns.

DEATH SENTENCE IS GIVEN COTTIN

Albany High Beats Flint's Cage Squad

HARD FOUGHT CONTEST WON BY LOCALS 15 TO 10.

In their initial encounter of the year the Boys' Basketball team of the Albany High school basted the Flint High team in a fast game. The final returns for the opposing teams were Flint 10, Albany 15. The game, scheduled for two weeks, was a hard fought contest from beginning to end. The inexperienced Albany aggregation had a total of fourteen fouls called on them but the Flint bunch only succeeded in gaining six points from these misdeeds.

Joe Blair, an Albany forward, was by far the star of the game. His playing brought the A. H. S. out of many a bad hole. At one stage of the contest, Blair threw off all his opponents and at a distance of fifty feet threw a field goal, the ball going through the center of the basket. Bell, center and Hollingsworth, forward, both of Albany, played a fast, clean intelligent game. St. John played a good game for Flint. The lineup for Albany follows:

Blair—forward.
Hollingsworth—Forward.
Bell—Center.
Shelton—Guard.
Russell—Guard.
Subs—Lamon—Guard; Thomas—Guard.

Referees—Miss Harrison, 1st Half; St. John, 2nd Half.

Negro Drinkless Despite Alleged Booze Ownership

Eddie Joe Jones, negro, is in the Morgan county jail, drinkless despite his alleged ownership of two whisky jugs of "spirits of cat-a-fighting," following his arrest at his home in Trinity yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff A. S. Grubbs.

Deputy Grubbs visited Trinity yesterday morning and obtained information regarding liquor there and came here and got a search warrant, later returning to Trinity and visiting the Jones home. The family was away and the officer arrested himself and awaited the arrival of Jones, who came in alone and was placed under arrest.

Entered as second-class matter February 26, 1912, at the postoffice at Albany, Ala., July 1, 1917, under Act of March 3, 1879.

USING THE MONROE DOCTRINE AS A BOGEY

The republican politicians, in their eagerness to return to power, rashly rushed in where angels feared to tread and attacked the proposed constitution of the League of Nations. Naturally enough, in their death-of-argument, they called forth the venerable and respected Monroe Doctrine and placed it on parade as a bogey man, believing that behind this "wooden horse" they might slip in and destroy all that President Wilson—a democrat—had done.

But have the republicans succeeded? Obviously not, for the simplest man who reads as he runs must know that the only purpose of the Monroe doctrine was to protect the American continent from the rapacity of European nations; and that the purpose of the league of nations is to protect the whole world from the rapacity of any power with dishonest ambitions. The world covenant would greatly strengthen the Monroe doctrine, if it is effective, and would not impair it in any way if it is ineffective.

About the most foolish parade that the G. O. P. has yet made is this unnecessary display of a brand of sophistry that even children can fathom.

JUST IN PASSING

WOODMEN HONORED

"I was much gratified at the high compliment paid my friend Melvin Hutson, of Decatur, by the head camp of the Woodmen of the World, when he received 179 votes on the first ballot for advisor lieutenant, second highest office of the head camp," said E. R. Calhoun, state secretary of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in the Birmingham News. "Hutson holds the second highest office within the gift of the Juniors of Alabama and next year will pass to the position of state counselor; and as he is an enthusiastic and loyal fraternalist, no doubt further honors await him. Another well-known member of the Junior Order, A. E. Overton, of Huntsville, was reelected without opposition head camp clerk by the Woodmen, a deserved recognition of his splendid capability in the office."

"FLO FLO"

That effervescent combination of gorgeous gowns and pithy epigrams, John Cort's musical comedy "Flo-Flo" which played to capacity houses in New York will come to the Masonic theatre on Wednesday, March 19. It has been one of the hits of Broadway last season, running at the Cort theatre for seven months.

Frollic, fun and frills form the "Flo-Flo" formula. It has won its way to public favor through its magnificent costuming, pertinent lines, pretty girls and lovely lyrics. Every member of its chorus is a "perfect 36". Each is blessed with that rare attribute of the chorus girl—a sense of humor. In fact, "Flo-Flo" has brought down the house at every performance with its comedy chorus.

"Flo-Flo" is one of the most handsomely gowned productions ever seen on a New York Stage, the wares of Mosher and Simpson, exhibited in the Bride Shop where the scenes of the story are laid having been selected from the most exclusive shops in New York and Paris.

The heroine of the piece is "Flo-Flo," Mosher and Simpson's most beautiful model, who although a vampire at heart renounces her love for a rising young man from Oshkosh, who has taken a position at three sixty a week in the Bride Shop in order that he may marry Angelina Stokes, who is being forced by a stern mother into a wedding with a "bad" count that she may thus rescue the waning Stokes' fortune.

But the chorus is not the only bright feature of "Flo-Flo." Funnier even than Charlie Chaplin's funny feet is the trick hat of Pinky and Aloysius, those two young men of nimble feet and agile headgear who aid materially in untangling the tangled romance of Billy from Oshkosh and Angelina Stokes. Mosher and Simpson also form one of the most popular comedy teams seen in a New York production for many seasons.

A THOUGHT FOR USE ON SABBATH AND EVERY OTHER DAY

"There is so much bad in the best of us and so much good in the worst of us that it ill becomes any of us to find fault with any of the rest of us." This sentiment is catchy, but in the last analysis it is too easy. It takes too little account of the Bible sentiment that "Man is prone to do evil as the sparks fly upward." It ignores that the good book also says in effect concerning the so called lords of creation, that they "were born in sin and conceived in iniquity." But leaving aside the theological question as to whether Adam's is an apostate race—tell this, just what good is it to have "so much of good in us" if we do not have quite enough of good to control our lives? The only really big question on this earth is one of control. How little even religious people understand this is illustrated by the common expression "cutting religion." You don't get religion. You don't get any possession when you are saved. The fact is you put yourself under control of God if you are religious.

Most people think that they must possess a thing in order to control it. So you must, if you see and recognize no divine or overhead control. For some years past, enlightened nations have given less and less concern as to who owns the title to countries. The question has come to be, how to control the trade and how get to do the business in those countries. By the same token it is not important whether individual or the state actually owns property—the question is: What kind of councils are going to control? Trouble did not start in this old world as some Frenchman said the minute some one said he owned something; it was the moment that he decided to control things for selfish reasons. The point is: Selfish reasons will always control as long as there are selfish people. This is why Christians never get overly enthusiastic about plans and methods and programs.

They know that the true doctrine is for people to put themselves under the control of the Right Power.

"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you" is absolutely true. Self control is self possession. Now it is shortsighted to think that you will get under control, in a day, or without pain or without the hardest kind of hardship. But when you do come under the control of God you will know it, and you will be satisfied with the quest of finding out "where unto you have been apprehended."

When you are properly controlled you will not seek certain ends primarily. You will seek to live that "each tomorrow finds us further than today." You will have the martial spirit. And like the true soldier, the strict discipline under which you have to live, will not break your spirit—will not destroy your determination. One word further, this especially to Christians. God will never control you absolutely.

He will let you do things even that you ought not to do. This illustration—to make this point clear.

There was once a college Governor who, when the boys would ask him to let them go to their dormitory during classes would invariably grant the desired permission—but would put the responsibility on the boy by saying, "if necessary." If you are engaged in questionable habits the fact that God allows this, especially when you have asked Him about it so much—proves nothing—in so far as making the questionable habit right—but it does prove that self control belongs to you, and even God will not take that from you. He will not nag at you to get you to quit bad habits. He will allow them, if you think they are "necessary."

You should not ask to be allowed to continue any habit which causes you any doubt or concern. A final rule for control—if you have any doubt about a course of conduct do not pursue it. If you start to do anything, and a doubt arises, do not do it. It is only by such a plan that you can come into true self control.

—J. E. Blair

Voice of the People

Albany, Ala., March 14, 1919
Editor, Albany-Decatur Daily,
Dear Sir:

It seems strange to me, that the prices of groceries are so high here, in this town, while the war was on, and the railroads could hardly get any trains through, to supply local towns with provisions, yet prices, on quite a lot of things, was not as high as it is now, and the prices seem to be still climbing higher.

For instance coal has gone up to $8.00 per ton. Last year coal was scarce on account of the Government needing so much, and they could not get cars to transport it from the mines, even then, the price was not so high, why? Because Uncle Sam regulated the prices, but it seems, just as soon as Uncle Sam removed the restrictions, then the dealers run prices up again.

I have some St. Louis, Mo., prices on groceries and other things, a few as follows: Evaporated milk, per brand, tall cans, 2 for 25c; granulated sugar, 10 lbs. for 98c; flour, fine grade, 24 lb. sack $1.30; bread, large 12 oz. loaf 5c; Irish potatoes, large white mealy, per peck 27c; liver, government inspected, per lb. 4c; Men's heavy blue work shirts, each 50c; Men's heavy blue (union label) overalls $1.25; boys' heavy overcoats, each $2.50. Furniture and all other things are in proportion, and they must certainly be making money at these prices, or they will soon go out of business. Also we get full weight and first class goods.

Now how can you expect people to trade at home, when they can get things for so much less away. Now I would rather trade at home, but not at such prices as that.

Yours truly,
CONRAD H. HAAS.

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Every druggist in town—your costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe all the next day like violent calomel.

Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE PAID THE FLAG BY FATHER JOS. E. McDERMOTT

Former Pastor Officiates at Impressive Service at Pensacola.

The Pensacola (Fla.) News published recently the following excellent address delivered by Father Jos. E. McDermott on the occasion of blessing the flag at St. Joseph's church in Pensacola. Father McDermott was the pastor here of St. Anne's church for nine years and numbers his friends by his acquaintances:

This ceremony today is no empty one, my friends. It has a deep significance. From the nature of man it has its religious side. The command of old was to "love God and honor the king." Herein is the twofold duty of man. Loyalty to God, loyalty to country. These two ideas should be so firmly entwined around the heart of man, that he would respond instantly to the needs of both. Man's composite nature requiring an objective something to which he could point to as an expression of the love of God for him, lovingly erected in a conspicuous place the cross symbolic of that love of God for him. That he might have an objective something symbolic of his country, to which he could show externally his love for his country, he conceived the flag. The flag of the country is the symbol of the country's ideals. As the cross is a holy symbol of religion, so the flag is a holy symbol of the country.

For us our country's flag with its stars of faith and hope, its blue of energy, its red of brotherly love, and its white of peace and uprightness, expresses liberty, humanity, morality. It shall ever be the symbol of heroic endeavor and patriotic services. Moved therefore by the inspiring memory of our patriots, and having the welfare of our country at heart, may we ever strive to crown the flag with glory, to protect it from treason, and send it down to posterity with all the blessings of civilization, liberty and religion.

Like the founders of our republic we today have faith in the eternity of truth, in the imperishable power of freedom, in the destinies of humanity in the virtue and capacity of the people, in the country's institutions, in an overruling Providence of a merciful and ever living God. "The inspiring thing about America," said President Wilson, "is that she stands for humanity and the things that humanity wants, that the force of America is the force of moral principle that there is not anything else she loves, and that there is not anything else for which she will contend. The only victories which can have any permanence are those of justice." That justice shall not perish from the earth that man shall ever have before him this high ideal, behold; the symbol of justice, the flag of this republic.

Its staff like the tree of the cross pointing up to the skies, its folds like the arms of the cross reaching out to the winds, this blend of cross and colors is a constant spur to us to live for God and country, and, if necessary, to die for God and country. Its red rippling on like the warm blood from the wounded breast of the patriot; its white streams on as if pleading with us to seek the purest in life and to trample down any vicious scheme or godless plot, and its blue but undulates to remind us that, after all, home sweet home is not here, but in the azure beyond. Its red, white and blue denote the dawn of liberty, not the lawlessness of the mob, and its stars, even when night is darkest with social distresses, are so many beacons of inspiring hope.

Note it well; the twig of today is the oak of tomorrow, the tot of today is the man of tomorrow, and thus the future of the nation in weal or woe hinges on the tot of today; the lad of today must be a young patriot. The patriot is not born, but made, not made by the mere waving of the flag or a long discourse on its hues. The patriot is made of sterner stuff, must have a fine conception of duty, and from this same viewpoint may not be in enmity with God or his fellow citizens.

At the country's call the boys of the country responded willingly and loyally. The citizens of the country are mindful, with gratitude of the patriotism of the boys who while offering their young lives to the country were willing, if necessary, to pay the supreme sacrifice of those lives for their country. In the galleries of the world's literature are found noble monuments erected to those who lived and fought and died for their country. The best thought of the world's master minds has been exhausted to adequately portray the meaning of patriotism. Patriotism's fibers should be so woven in with the warp and woof of the heart's tendrils that it would respond with lightning swift-

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there. I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

ness to the least indication of danger to the country. When the call came of danger to the country patriotism visaged itself sternly on the face of man, it shone in youth's face with a holy exultation. The boy became a man, while retaining youth's freshness. The spirits of the boys were aroused as perhaps never before, and they went forth as crusaders that the world countries might be as free as their own. That their fellows in whatsoever land might enjoy the blessings which they enjoy of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

To attain this end they crossed the ocean at a time when danger threatened them at every moment. They knew that should they go down, others would step forward to fill up the gap. The end for which the country entered the war must be attained. 'Over there' they awaited the signal for the charge. "Over the top" they went, and some remain there on a foreign soil to sleep and dream dreams of immortality. While others return to their families. For the noble dead we utter a prayer that they may ever be in God's holy keeping. For the noble living our heart goes out to them in gratitude. To the mothers of the living we extend our congratulations. To the mothers of the dead, we extend our heart sympathy, assuring them that the great heart of the American people feel their loss. That their dead need no other monument than their names in the roster of their country's illustrious dead. That in the deepest depths of the heart of the American people will be found a deeper still to enshrine lovingly the noble living and the noble dead.

Our country's flag gayly waves in peace no less than in war, and oft altered and torn it waves; to the hymn of right it waves on the gory fields of fame, as, under it and for it, the boys of the army and navy who battled and loyally to save its stars, to save its stripes, from the aint of disgrace. Its martyrs, slain in a series of bitter contests, lie under its folds, and the same flag pays them and their deeds of loyalty the noblest tribute of praise. It proudly floats and bravely in many a clime, never has it been lowered, and never must it be lowered save with the sublime honors of the sunset."

Daily thought. Charity itself consists in acting justly and faithfully in whatever office, business and employment a person is engaged.—Swedenborg.

Why do people sleep

Remember the morning you woke up with a feeling that you really had been sound asleep all night? Never felt so well before! Nor looked so fresh and rested—nor got things done so easily.

IT WAS the deep sleep that did it. Nothing keeps us looking so young or feeling so vigorous as enough deep, restful sleep—every nerve and muscle relaxed. Do you ever really relax? The chances are you don't. No matter what you do to bring sleep, you will never sleep sound unless your bed invites perfect relaxation. Thousands who for years have been "light sleepers"—waking at every sound—sleep the night through on a Simmons Bed.

Why the Simmons Bed?

The Simmons Metal Bed is strong and rigid where the average bed is weakest—in the corner locks.

These are some of the Simmons basic patents—the pressed steel corner locks—they have much longer locking surfaces than you find in the average bed. In fact, it is the pressed steel corner locks that have made possible the Simmons new Three-piece Bed—the spring made in a single unit with the side rails.

Don't Blame Your Mattress for the Faults of Your Spring!

Everybody knows the spring that slackens, sags and lets the sleeper roll into a hollow—or creaks with the slightest movement—or that does not fit four-square and firm on the bed, and knocks and rattles.

The Simmons Slumber King Spring is taut, but elastic—never slack. It gives to the contours of the body—supports the spine in any sleeping position—is noiseless, invites relaxation, and promotes natural, restful sleep. Finished smooth—can't tear ticking of mattress. The entire spring has a rust-proof oxidized-silver finish.

Simmons Beds are Made in All Sizes and Styles

Full double—Three-quarter—Full single—Standard single—and Twin Beds.

You will find a range of styles to select from in brass, and in enamel with and without brass trimmings.

Simmons styles are good. Whatever your bedroom decoration scheme, you will find a Simmons Bed that "belongs."

Beautifully finished. Lacquer, perfect. Enamel free from pin-holes, blisters and lumps—clear and smooth.

Your choice of white, cream and delicate tones of colors in vogue for interiors today.

And now with regard to the unusual variety of TWIN BEDS

Nice people everywhere are discovering that a separate bed for each person is a great aid toward perfect rest and sound health.

One sleeper does not disturb the other. Colds, sore throat, and other infections are not communicated. And one sleeper does not draw on the vitality of the other.

Simmons Beds will cost you little if any more than the general run of metal beds. They are worth more—much more.

Come in and let us show them to you.

AMUSEMENTS

A charming photoplay of love and war, combining all the elements of dramatic thrill and deep heart appeal, is "Missing," the newest photoplay produced under the direction of J. Stuart Blackton, from a scenario made by Mr. Blackton and James Young.

"Missing" is, in many respects, an all-star production, and it is one of the most notable produced by Mr. Blackton since his arrival in California. In his photoplay appear two sisters, one of them a designing woman, who craves social position and wealth, and who seeks to utilize her sister as a tool for the accomplishment of her purpose. The younger sister, however, marries an army officer, and after his departure for the front, she is thrown in contact with a patriotic nobleman, through whose philanthropy thousands of British convalescent troops are being cared for.

The elder sister encourages their meetings and secretly nourishes the hope that the Lieutenant may be killed and her sister eventually be married to the rich nobleman. The Lieutenant is reported as missing but returns after having been severely wounded in an engagement and he loses his speech and memory through shock. His health is finally restored by his wife, who sings to him, "Bonnie Sweet Beanie," a song they sang together during their courtship days. The play is filled with action and is in every way calculated to make a deep impression upon the spectator.

In the all-star cast are such screen stars as Thomas Meighan, Robert Gordon, Winter Hall, Sylvia Breamer, Ola Humphrey, Molly McConnell and Kathryn O'Connor.

Target Tips and Hunting Helps

By Our Arms and Ammunition Expert

Send Questions Care of this Paper

I was talking to Doc, about old "Kentucky" rifles, and when I told him I was thinking of getting one and might have to pay as high as thirty-five dollars for it, you should have heard the roar he set up. Told me right to my face that I was a "sentimental fool."

"What do you want with one of those old relics?" he demanded.

"I won't buy one that is not in perfect shooting condition," I told him. "I want to satisfy myself if those old riflemen were the wonderful shot tradition claims they were. I don't believe those old nail-driving yams, but I want to get an especially fine 'Kentucky' rifle, with a reputation for extreme accuracy, and then I am going to make it prove something. I can approximate a machine-gun test and you know that I know enough about loading to make mighty sure that any gun I test gets a fair deal on that score, too. Besides," says I, "I have always liked the looks of them."

"Bosh!" he snorts. "Good for nothing but a wall ornament—and it's a depraved or dislocated taste that hangs old gun up on a wall to rust and collect dust."

"Well," I say, "how about when the old gun has a history? Do you believe in keeping it hid away somewhere or giving it away to a museum? I'd rather have it where I could see it."

"History! Museum! What right to attention has any of those old crows? A gun is made to shoot, and when it is burnt out the proper place for it is the scrap heap, where the metal in it can be turned to some other use."

Just the same I do like those old "Kentuckys," and the Doc. can go choke if he wants to. I have a friend out in Des Moines who collects them, just the way you and I used to collect postage stamps when we were kids. Years ago when I saw him last he had some beauties, but he has a really wonderful collection now, judging from photos and descriptions he has sent me. And here is a sample of the kind of guy he is, by the way—I'll just quote a paragraph from his letter to me:

Collecting Rifles as a Hobby

"While on my canoe trip last fall I heard of an old-hombre named Ike Rogers who lived along the river and had a 'Kentucky' which he always had owned. Found him. Poor old chap had married a second time, after his good wife died, and the second was a shrew. She had the old fellow about ready to take the count, so I had no difficulty in buying his hunting outfit, which had been with him more than two score and ten years, and cared for wonderfully well. I bought the outfit at what he asked for it, and as I left I called him outside and slipped him an extra five

"The old 'Kentucky' was made by old Nathan Clarke, of somewhere in Pennsylvania. Nate was of the last part of the flintlock period and carried over into the early days of percussion locks. This rifle was a flintlock, so now my collection contains a 'Nathan Clarke' of both kinds. It had a 45-inch barrel 1/2-inch in diameter and a beautiful curly-maple stock inlaid with twelve pieces of engraved silver. With it was a fine old horn and fringed buckskin pouch. When I got back to camp I emptied the pouch. It contained a bunch of tow for wiping out barrel, two extra flints, a small priming flask, a one-bladed Barlow knife, a turkey call (wing bone), several fish-hooks, an Indian arrowhead, a musket-cap box containing tallow, about twenty-five bullets, piece of buckskin string. And hung to the pouch was a pair of chargers made from tips of deer horns."

Do you blame me for wanting that old chap's outfit, Billy? Worst of it is, my friend won't sell it. However, he says he has heard of a couple of other good old "Kentuckys," down in Missouri, and hopes to land them, and if he does he will let me have one of them, providing I want it.

That's the "gun bug" of it—here we are confronted with this 10 percent tax and yet if friend Mark writes me by and by that I can have that rifle, I simply have got to get it. Funny how a man will dig up for guns and shooting, in spite of hell and high water, isn't it? Do you know of any other sport that has as strong a hold on a man? I don't.

All of you women who admire dresses possessing this trait will certainly fall in love with these new taffetas, georgettes, charmeuses, chiffons, crepe de chins and satins. It dwells in the hang of their shoulders, in the drape of their sleeves, in the sleekness of their lines, in the richness of their fabrics; in the excellence of their finish; everywhere, every place, in fact. If you need a cape you will surely purchase one of these on the spot.

$15.00 to $35.00

Simplicity is evident in every line of these new creations. They are fashioned, like the other garments, along slender, straight lines.
